Dear Ron,

This is a Dear-John letter. This morning , I saw you hugging and kissing my best friend, Emily, in the park. I couldn't believe my eyes ! Yes, seeing is believing. I am fine with it if you want to say goodbye. To me, there are still a lot of fish in the sea. Guess what ! Your best friend, Tony, asked me for a date once. Maybe I should take him as my new boyfriend.

Molly

Dear Molly,

One hour ago, I just got off the plane, turned on my cellphone, and then I got your e-mail ! I was still in Japan this morning, I went there on business the day before yesterday. How could I hug and kiss Emily in the park? I am on my way to your home right from the airport. Wait for me ! Love you.

Ron

A long time ago, a cat and a mouse lived together. They prepared a pot of fat for the winter and placed it in the church.

One day, the cat told the mouse, " Listen, my cousin invited me to be her first son's godfather." " Go ahead," said the mouse. After the cat came back, the mouse asked, " What's the child's name?" "Top-Off." answered the cat.

Soon the cat told the mouse , " My cousin asked me to be her second son's godfather again." Shortly after, the mouse asked, " What's the child's name this time?" "Half-Gone." answered the cat. One week ago, the cat told the mouse, " My cousin asked me to be her third son's godfather again." Finally, the mouse asked, " What's the child's name ?" "All-Gone." the cat answered. The mouse felt strange, but he tried believing the cat.

When the winter came, the mouse found nothing was in the pot.

"Now, I see ! " said the mouse. "You ate the top of the fat when you said your cousin's son's name was Top-Off, then it was Half-Gone and then..."

Before the mouse said the last word, the cat jumped onto the mouse and ate it.
