3.

Hinamatsuri is on March 3. In spring, the weather gets different fast, and people often get sick. In old times, people put paper dolls on the river. They wish the river take their bad luck away. Even now, some people do so in Japan.

Most parents celebrate Hinamatsuri for their daughters with dolls with beautiful Japanese clothes. Mothers and girls put the dolls on a piece of red cloth on the doll stand at home some days before March 3 until the end of the festival. They wish their daughters have good life. Also, girls have parties with their friends and have chirashizushi and clam soup during the festival. Boys do not join this because Hinamatsuri is only for girls. Then, are there any festivals for boys in Japan? Yes, it is on May 5.
