Dear Maggie,
 I know you won't be happy but I still have to say this again. It hurts me to think that you're going to 38. I know you always want to be like those actresses with big eyes and thin legs, but in fact, you are already beautiful. You are so special because nobody looks the same as you.
 I'm worried that 39. But sadly, there's no quick fix to this, not even with the doctor's help. If you don't try to like yourself first, no one will. People like you not because of your face, but because of your heart. You need to understand this first. Until you understand this, nothing is going to be different even though you have this change.
 I truly hope you think this through again.
 Love, Linda

Women are half of the world's people. They do everything from having babies to traveling in space. The world wouldn't be the same without women.

However, in many places around the world, women are still not equal to men. Women get less pay, although they do the same work as men. People treat women differently if they work in a "men's" work. In some places, women can't drive cars or have jobs without permission. They can't even have an opinion. Sadly, somewhere they have no rights.

In the early 1900s, women started working to change their lives. They began fighting for their rights. They wanted to be able to work, vote, become government officers, and more. In 1911, the first International Women's Day held. Over one million women and men in four European countries joined. Soon, it became a common event everywhere.

Today, people celebrate International Women's Day on March 8 every year. They celebrate women's rights through history. Most importantly, they keep going the fight to make women equal in the world.
